Commonwealth Mourns Queen Mary

Four generations of the commonwealth were familiar with Queen Mary—first as the Duchess of York, then as Queen then as Queen Mother, and then as Dowager Queen. Raised in the Victorian era she became a symbol of the dignity of the age. She was known as kindly yet unyielding, gracious but reserved. Some of the highlights of her 81 years included her marriage to Duke of York in 1893; their coronalion in 1911 and celebration of their silver jubilee in 1935. To many Britons she, more than any other, was the true symbol of Britain's monarchic continuity.

A well-known tener, Alex Robertson, featured in much of the rendition, and was greatly admired for his wenderful expression and charity of tone. # Parity Prices

CROSSFIELD - The regular monthly meeting of the Crossfield grade 7 and 8 of Beiseker netted local FUA was held in the Community hall on March 12 at 8:00 p.m. with Vice-President J. Aldred in the chair.

The main discussion for the evening was on Parity Prices for farm produce on the domestic market.

The conclusion was that since the Canadian people enjoy a standard of living better than that of anj where in the world except in the U.S.A., no reason could be seen why Parity Prices should not be established, with any surplus being sold at the world price. Under the present system the farmer of West-ern Canada is selling his wheat for 30 to 40 cents below parity or subsidizing the Canadian consumer 25 million dollars per year on 70 million bushels used in Canada. A committee was set up to build and erect a bill board near the Post Office. Another committee was

EFFICIENT TRACTOR NEEDED FOR FARM SAFETY

EDMONTON-A tractor in poor repair or one operated carelessly can cost a farmer his life, is the warning of the Rural Division of the Alberta Safety Council as spring work begins in Alberta's agricultural industry.

Officials of the organization stress that three factors will contribute to farm safety during the busy season: tractor and farm machinery in good repair, con-stant preceptions in operation of tractor and machinery, and the general good health of the op-

A spring seat or foam ruber cushion on the tractor will contribute to the comfort and efficiency of the operator.

The tractor hitch should also be checked as a safety measure to see that it is properly mounted. Power take-off, if used, should be properly shielded.

Special attention should be given to the efficiency of the traclock together, as improper brakes can swing the tractor around and turn it over or throw the operator to the ground.

Even a tractor in good repair can be a dangerous machine unless the operator is alert to safety measures, official of the Alberta

Several fatal accidents last year resulted from tractor operators allowing passengers to ride with them on their machines, it was pointed out. "A tractor is built to accommodate only the operator: a 'hitch-hiker' on the machine courts death."

Safety conditions are greatly improved if the tractor operator himself is in good health and is provided with devices for his comfort while working. Echoes of the Chinese Communist peace offensive spread around the world today. Developments came in rapid fire order from London, Moscow and Seoul. The first clear-cut statement of British policy was made in the House of Commons. Prime Minister Churchill said that the new Chinese peace proposals seem to offer hope for an end to the Korean

The Prime Minister continued: it seems to provide the basis on which the armistice nego-tiations can be usefully resumed." Churchill added: "These de-velopments, if not spoiled seem to offer a new hope-for a cessation of the fighting in Korea-The Commons cheered the Prime Minister's report.

Officials in Washington wonder whether part of the price for peace in Kore is Red China's ad-mission to the Jnited Nations, It events proved this to be so, ficials say that the price is just too high.

Earlier plans to demand immediate full-dress debate of the Chinese proposals in the UN have been scrapped.

In New York's financial district there was another reflection of Korean developments. Prices on the New York Stock exchange slipped downward for the third session in a row. Selling hit the market after a firm opening.

Boys will be boys and a trick or two on a fence meant a broken leg for five-year-old Wayne Ronald Wurrch of Winnipeg. Now sound and sturdy he is shown re-turning the crutches to the Sick Room Loan Supply Service. Little Wayne is one of the many thousands of Canadians who call every year for the loan of sick room supplies from the Red Cross. All requests for loans of sick -com supplies, which are made absolutely free of charge, are checked with the family physician for the protection of the natient, the doctor and the Red Cross.

"In most Canadian centres hospital accommodation is difficult to obtain and more and more cases of chronic incurable diseases are being cared for in the home,' stated Helen McArthur, national director of Red Cross nursing services. "Through the Red Cross it s possible to obtain on loan such things as hospital beds, back rests. bed pans, crutches, and wheel chairs. Linen, blankets, air rings and others are also provided by the local Red Cross branches."

A Good Investment

The Canadian Cancer Society is again conducting its annual campaign for funds in this community. In considering the request for contributions, most people, it is pretty certain, will ask themselves just how important is it that they give to this cause. Can they also ask with justification,

"I've given year after year and still we're threatened by cancer?'

Each man's answer will be his own. Our answer is based on the word,

It must be remembered that the long hard road of research can turn at any moment. A look at the record of scientific achievement will demonstrate this better than anything else.

The death rate from rheumatic fever declined 53 per cent between 1944 and 1950, the last year for which figures are available. Deaths from pneumonia and influenza declined 47 per cent in the same period. From 1944 to 1949 appendicitis deaths were cut 53.7 per cent and the scarlet fever death rate dropped 70 per cent.

The over-all death rate in Canada was reduced 15 per cent from 1937 to 1950.

This tremendous improvement is directly due to the development of the sulfa drugs, penicillin and other antibiotics.

But these wondrous jailers of infection did not leap full blown from the minds of their creators. They were the results of many patient years of plodding investiga-

And so, too, can it be with cancer. If the public can provide funds to keep the scientists at work long enough they will find the complete answer. Already, half of those who develop cancer could be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

More than half a million dollars was allocated to research by the Canadian Cancer Society in 1952. The Society expects to increase the figure this year.

When you are asked to give, do it with great expectations—with the knowledge that cancer can be conquered and with the ever constant hope that it will be soon!

Wheat Agreement Discussion

The latest information on the International Wheat conference being held in Washington, D.C., is that wheat exporting countries have reduced their figure for a ceiling price to $2.10 and the importing nations have increased their figure to $1.95.

While press reports would suggest that the difference in viewpoint on the ceiling price has created a deadlock, there is some hope that an agreement will be signed. A compromise price of around $2.05 may be arrived at.

If no wheat agreement is signed the key to the price situation will rest mainly with the United States. By the end of the crop year the government of that country will own at least 400 million bushels of wheat. If that volume is held off the market importing nations will have to bid for supplies. If it is dumped on the market prices will skid.

Note and Comment

The British wheat crop in 1952 is estimated at 82.8 million bushels. Production in 1951 was 83.5 million. The average yield per acre was 42.2 bushels.

The livestock industry in France is suffering heavily from foot-and-mouth disease. About 15 per cent of the total cattle population have been infected.

The United States imported 16.6 million bushels of Canadian wheat during the first six months of the present crop year. Of that total 3.2 million bushels was for milling in

On February 20 some 25 million lbs. of butter was stockpiled in Canada, an increase of 7 million lbs. over the amount in storage on the same date the previous year.

Super Highways - Super Crack-Ups

By T. W. PUE

For many years Albertans have been rightly critical of the condition of Highways in the Prov-ince. Narrow roads, muddy and rutted, however, are being replaced with 44 foot width speedways, hard surfaced, with plenty of shoulder width on each side. High speed will replace low speed, and muddy ruts will be replaced by smooth hard-top surfaces lending itself to carefree, bump-free auto

But now traffic authorities remind us that though Hon, Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways and his corps of engineers are doing a good job, we still can make junk of our jalopies, and soup-bones out of our collective necks on these super-roads.

We haven't yet approached the high standards of the Pennsylvia Turnpike which was built in 1940. But better roads and better cars mean more frequent and serious traffic casualties.

Latest statistics prove that more and more super-road users are cracking up in more and worst accidents. A total of 365 drivers and passengers have been killed on the Pennsylvania Turnpike since 1940; 40 died on the New Jersey Turnpike during its first 10 months of operation: Cars in such high-speed fatalities average $2,429 damage per vehicle. The average two-or three-lane highway wreck runs up a repair bill of less than $500.

T. W. PUE

The reason for such new-style super-smackups is deadly simple. A car traveling 70 mph (Pennsy Turnpike legal speed is 70; Jersey 60) can't be braked to a safe stop in less than 297 feet. If a car or truck less than that distance ahead of you gets into trouble, chances are excellent that you'll pile up on him, as No. 2 man in a multiple crackup.

On the Jersey road, recently, 11 cars which hadn't bothered to slow down in fog got tangled in a sensational chain-reaction smackeroo.

Even skilled truck drivers can't speed with impunity. On the Pennsylvania toll road, a while back, one huge trailer truck skidded and jack-knifed, and was promptly ground to pieces by four trucks roaring behind it. Score: Two dead; $700,000 estimated damage.

Alarmed safety authorities are demanding speed-way reforms—more patrolling and perhaps even a system of caution signals like those on auto racetracks, to slow the scorchers down when there's danger ahead. It's obvious that some such stern measures are needed unless our best highways are to become our worst traffic nightmares.

Meantime, unless you really crave to figure in one of those sensational, 90 mph, double-decker pile-ups, better take it easy.

A Voice Against Hanging

Every decent-minded citizen of Alberta, indeed of all Canada, will be relieved to know that the death sentence on a Drumheller miner, guilty of killing his wife, has been commuted to life imprisonment.

In prison this man can be given some useful work to do and live, not because of his deeds, but in spite of them. It is time that capital punishment was written off our

The Calgary Albertan has raised the point that hanging serves no purpose whatever. Threat of hanging didn't stop a crazed young man from pumping five bullets into the body of an Edmonton businessman in broad daylight o na parking lot in the centre of the city.

It didn't stop a moral degenerate from violating and then murdering a Calgary woman. It didn't stop the Drumheller miner from killing his wife to put her out of pain and misery.

Why don't we put a stop to this savage idea that the state must take the life of every man guilty of homicide? Do two wrongs make one right?

Voice of the People

THE WAY TO PEACE

It has been suggested that if peace broke out that our pros-perity would burst like a bubble and we would be in the midst of an depression. This is probably wards democracy since the wider true, but it can hardly be believed Unit System destroyed the roots that we are desirous of keeping our present tensions and fears so high just to enjoy "high wages," "high profits" and "high prices." To suppose that the majority of humanity; our fathers, mothers, young men and sweethearts like this continual uncertainty; the separations and the killings of Korea; the giving up of the cherished plans of young people in order to fight for Queen and country and the shocks of war, is not true.

That the American people are desperately anxious for peace is proven by the eagerness with which they accepted Eisenhower's promise to go to Korea and seized upon it as a way to settle that war. Eisenhower's stated willingness to go halfway around the world to meet Stalin, has stirred hope again and why not? We have tried the cold war and the threat of the atom bomb and failed to secure peace. We have, under Acheson's direction, tried to build up our strength by armaments until we could negotiate from the point of overwhelming power. We had the atom bomb and now likely have the hydrogen bomb but in our hearts we know that to use them would not bring peace but destruction. Russia has the same weapons and we are like "sitting ducks" with our large cities more, vulnerable than is Russia to attack.

What have we gained by past policies? Has the U.S. built up poncies? Has the U.S. built up much friendship for herself? Do we feel ourselves secure? Are the United States' motives trusted in Europe and Asia? Actually have we tried a give and take type of negotiation, or simply tried to dictate, shown distrust and overbearing intolerance to the others viewpoint and race superiority?

During four years in the west we have built up armaments and planes and spent millions, but very little toward building friendships and confidence. Yet millions of our young people are just waiting for inspired leadership in the battle of ideals. No conscrip- GASOLINES-MOTOR OILS-GREASES, tion is necessary in such a strug-gle. Even Russia's fear of us would dissolve if we demonstrated we really meant to be friendly. We must come to it sometime, why not commence now?

COMMERCIAL SEED TREATMENTS SAFE IF USED PROPERLY

EDMONTON - Farmers who use commercial chemical products to treat grain preparatory to seeding can do so without danger, if reasonable precautions are observed. The reassurance comes from the Rural Division of the Alberta Safety Council.

The Council's report is based on findings of the American Med-ical Association's Committee on Pesticides, and is in line with opinions expressed by Agricultural egineers in the Alberta Department of Agriculture. It deals with ben-zene hexachloride, sold under the trade name of "Lindane", a gas-eous liquid used in the treatment of seed grain to prevent wireworm, mercurial dusts which and. with are now in common use as smut preventive.

Rust Resistance From Seed Wild Wheat

New races of rust are constantly arising and some of these are capable of attacking our present bread wheat varieties. A good example is the recent advent of race 15B of stem rust. The wheat breeder is constantly striving to keep ahead of the rust threat by incorporating into our present standard varieties, the resistance of varieties introduced from all over the world. Some of these wheats have good resistance to our present rusts, but in the last few years. The follow-undoubtedly new races will arise ing is a brief outline of the types to attack many of them. Hence a long range view must be taken by the plant breeder to obtain suitable material to satisfy not only present needs, but also future needs.

Since it is becoming increasingly difficult to find new resistant wheats for breeding, other sources should be explored to supplement the supply of resistance, says R. C. McGinnis, Laboratory of Cereal C. McGinnis, Laboratory of Sreeding, Winnipeg. It is known that certain wild grasses related to wheat—various species of Agro-pyron, Aegilops and Haynaidia have excellent resistance. Should a transfer of this resistance to common wheat prove possible, then new reservoir of breeding material would be available. Some of these grasses do not cross readily with wheat, or when they do cross, produce sterile hybrids. When this happens, a different method of breeding must be used. First, two grasses are crossed and then the resulting hybrid is treated with a chemical such as colchicine. Col-chicine can cause the chromosome number to double in the plant cells, and the hybrid therby becomes fertile and stable. This is called species building because such hybrids are actually new species. In many cases these new species can be crossed successfully with wheat. In this way the rust res-istance of certain wild grasses may be transferred to wheat.

In 1951, a program such as outlined was started at the Cereal Breeding Laboratory. Undoubtedly the program will meet with many adversities and will require a number of years before its practicability can be fully assessed.

ministered by the Plants Products nearly complete protection from Division, Department of Agri-culture. These products were reg-irtered by 16 firms, many of which provided Canadian farmers with other pesticides for the control of diseases and insects affecting agri-oultural production. More than half of these Seed Treatments are new products only available to farmers Treatments available: Seed Fungicidal (Mercurial), 15 preparatione; Fungicidal ( Non-mer-curial), 10 preperations; Insecticidal (Lindane), 4 preparations; Insecicidal - Fungicidal (Lindane ius Mercurial), 4 preperations. The Fungicidal Treatments are designed to disinfect seed, and to protect it from soil-borne diseases. The newer formulations contain one of the following ingredients: Phenyl Mercuric Acetate (PMA) which is effective against smut (except loose smut), seedling blight and seed rot of flax. PMA is toxic to man and therefore should be used with care. Hexachlorobenzene, a chlorinated hydrocarbon, is specific for the control of bunt or stinking smut of wheat. Thiram, an organic sulphur compound, effec-tively controls several of the soilborne seed and seedling diseases.

problems which have faced the City of Edmonton during the p Tew years especially dealing with the question of water and sewer services, a subject in which this town is vitally interested.

He hoped from his talk that this town would benefit from Edmonton's experiences and that it should build not for the present but also for the future.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Alderman Hanna at the close of the meeting.

HOW much have automobile insurance rates increas-

• In relation to other car costs they've gone down. Each $100 of insurance carried takes a smaller portion of the motorist's dollar than ever before.

But cars are more expensive.
 You can't insure the $2,400 car of today as cheaply as the $850 car of 1939.

So, in dollars, how much have auto rates gone up? An average of 30% for Public Liability and Property Damage. An average of 60% for full coverage.

WHAT affects the cost of automobile insurance?

. The number of accidents

· The average cost of accidents

• The costs of doing business

The profit or loss of the insurance

WHY have rates gone up in dollar cost?

· Because accident rates have been soar ing.

Today one person is killed every four hours in Canada - one person is injured every fifteen minutes — a fender is smashed every

STATE OF THE PARTY IS NOT THE asset Ald, Hilliams Saturd

Because accident costs have been soar-

A wrecked car costs two to three times as much to replace as in 1939—a damaged car costs twice as much to repair—those fenders every two minutes cost three times as much.

Because medical and hospital costs have increased an estimated 165%.
 The bill for injuries is the highest in history.

Because average Canadian earning power is up 150%.
That means higher payments to settle "lost time" claims.

THEN HOW have insurance companies kept rates from going much higher?

 By cutting operating coats. Overhead is higher but operating costs per vehicle have been slashed.

By losing money.

Auto insurance companies paid out $65,000,000 in claims last year. They lost $6,3000,00 doing it.

THE REMEDY

Reduce accidents.

When the accident rate goes down — unless the cost of each accident goes 'way up — insurance rates will go down too. Compe-tition makes that certain.
